

Wir laden Sie herzlich ein zu einem Vortrag von

Warren Karlenzig

„Sustainable Urban Development –
More than Urban Greening?“

am

Dienstag, 8. April, 11:30 bis 13:30 Uhr

im

Hörsaal 11.03, Heinrichstraße 36/EG, A-8010 Graz

Zum Vortrag:

Today, cities not only house the majority of the world's population, they are also the global centers of innovation. The planning, development, renovation and management of cities provide unlimited opportunities to meet the challenges of climate change with sustainable economic development. Common Current founder Warren Karlenzig, recognized as one of the world's leading experts on urban sustainability and its role in green economic development, will take a hard-nosed look at the interconnected threats of our global sustainability quandary as well as the most promising responses.

Zum Vortragenden:

Warren Karlenzig is the President of Common Current, a company that provides organizations and people with the frameworks, tools and funding mechanisms to supporting goals of moving to greater sustainability. He has developed sustainability strategy and metrics on a global basis with different nations, the State of California, major cities, corporations, foundations and international NGOs. Clients have included the United Nations; the U.S. Department of State; the White House Office of Science and Technology; the Asian Institute for Energy, Environment & Sustainability; and The David and Lucile Packard Foundation. He is recognized as one of the world's top experts on urban sustainability strategy and metrics, and is the author of “How Green is Your City? The SustainLane US City Rankings” and “Blueprint for Greening Affordable Housing.”

Listen to Warren Karlenzig talking about what inspired him to devote his career to urban sustainability: <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=RYBFqmDepow>

In Kooperation mit:

RCE Graz-Styria
REGIONAL CENTRE OF EXPERTISE
Education for Sustainable Development